Elder Morgan to Remain Here.

The officers and members of the Christian church of this city were greatly distressed to learn Sunday morning that their pastor, Elder Carey E. Morgan was seriously considering a most insistent call from the largest congregation of this religious body in Nashville, Tenn. So often had Mr. Morgan refused to consider very flattering overtures from churches in larger cities his congregation had come to consider him as belonging exclusively to them, and had no thought of his leaving Paris. He has ministered to the church in its joys and in its sorrows with a loving Christian spirit and a kindly helpfulness that has endeared him not only to every individual of his membership but to the citizens of this entire community regardless of religious faith that it would have been viewed as no less than a calamity to have him leave for another field.

During the early part of the morning service the officers held a consultation and voted unanimously that they would in no wise consider accepting Mr. Morgan's resignation. They also appointed one of the elders to present the situation to the congregation at the close of the service and take the sense of the entire body as to their will in the matter. At the mention of the subject the deepest of interest was shown and tears came to the eyes of many at the thought of losing the pastor whom they so dearly love. Without exception the entire audience voted not to release him.

Upon a presentation of the earnest and enthusiastic protest of the congregation Mr. Morgan has decided to decline the call much to the gratification of his congregation and many friends throughout the county.

For nearly nine years he has served the Paris church with marked success. He is widely known as one of the most magnetic and capable pastors to be found anywhere. His forceful, loving messages from the pulpit have been always delivered with such depth of Christian spirit as to place him in demand as a speaker on nearly all the programs of the national gatherings of this church and on many occasions of note where a speaker with power of thought was needed.

It is no wonder that a minister of his ability is wanted and should desire to go into wider fields of usefulness and the Paris church is indeed to be congratulated upon Mr. Morgan's decision to remain here. Below is a copy of the letter to the Nashville church reporting the action of the church here.

Prof. Alexander Fall,
Nashville, Tenn.

Dear Brother:—This is written in confirmation of the telegram sent you yesterday by the church here in regard to the action taken touching considering the acceptance of Bro. Morgan's resignation.

The board of officers unanimously declined to consider his resignation for a moment and protested against his considering any thought of giving up his work here. The officers presented the matter to the congregation for their consideration. With one accord every man, woman and child present arose to vote that his resignation should not be considered.

Bro. Morgan's relation to our people and in fact to all communions and the people at large in this entire county and several counties around is of such a close and pleasant nature that it would be very hurtful to our cause here to allow him to leave while the conditions are so favorable to larger work for the Master. We believe that could you know the situation as it really is here and with what sincerity he is loved by the entire congregation without exception you would not think it right to ask him to take the risk of seriously injuring work that he has spent years to build up and has so well in hand now. This was all put before Bro. Morgan so that he could not but admit the reasonableness of our argument, and this with the attachment which he naturally would have for a people with whom he had labored in every phase of life for so long, caused him to decide that his duty was to remain here, in spite of the fact that your appeal was very strongly put and the field one that was very inviting to one like him who aspires to do large things for his Lord, and he was in some doubt as to whether he might not do greater work with you. But we need him here, especially at this time, and we have made him see that this is so. We wish to assure you that no undue advantage was taken by him in your having extended him the call. His decision was reached only through the consideration of his friendly relation to the people and his duty to the church here. No advancement of salary or extension of privileges or other consideration in any way differing from his original contract has been given him. We mention this that you may know that he has not used your call to secure any personal advantage for himself. His answer was given only in consideration of our appeal to his duty and love for us and our devotion to him.

We can find no fault with you for wanting such a man and we know that he would have carried your work with the greatest success and have added strength to your church and honor to the cause of Christ.

While we rejoice that he has decided to remain with us, we sincerely regret that it means to you the denial of the leadership of one of God's own appointed and one of the most efficient and faithful who ever filled the trying office of preacher and pastor for a large congregation.

We earnestly pray that your disappointment may be but for a short time and we can ask for you no greater blessing than that there may come to you such a consecrated leader as Bro. Morgan has ever been to us.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,
W. O. HINTON, Committee,
For Paris Christian church.
